

Once in business... Don't take the risk

Allowing unwanted email to reach your organisation goes beyond the issue of hindering productivity. There are now laws on both sides of the Atlantic to expose employers to charges of liability and harassment. These charges can be brought even if the harassment comes from a faceless, unknown global Spammer.

Being unaware of having to shield your employees is no excuse in the eyes of the law.

Taking these issues lightly with a low-end solution for Viruses, Spam, Sexually Explicit Material and Unwelcome Content will not protect employers from litigation. The Maildistiller service is designed to protect against all these threats, accommodating multiple languages at no extra cost.

Company specific

The service can be also be customized to allow email that may at first appear undesirable due to particular content or homographic words, to be quarantined for your consideration rather than deleted immediately. It is possible that these emails may contain legitimate words or phrases which are relevant to your organisation, but not to another. These problems occur frequently in the medical and legal industries, leading to the blocking of legitimate email (false positives). Maildistiller has the ability to robustly stop spam, yet be flexible enough to allow your organisation to communicate how it needs to. Fewer than 1 in 1.5 million emails are categorised wrongly with Maildistiller's intuitive service.

Additionally our latest addition to our product portfolio, 'Pure', is a sophisticated content filtering service, meaning such occurrences can be virtually eradicated.

Email essential businesses

Maildistiller realise that email communications and web access are all essential tools for businesses; for networking with customers, suppliers and colleagues. However, in today's environment, threats are continually changing and merging, meaning that separate protection solutions aren't enough to guarantee you the peace of mind that the online activities of your business and employees are securely protected.

Elevate the pressure and concentrate on your business

In the business sphere where it's vital to focus attention on core activity, the web and email should be valuable, progressive tools for businesses. Poorly protected however, they can become costly, timely, and dangerous, as well as draining resources and hampering employee's productivity

How? Well research suggests that unwanted email currently accounts for between 65 and 90 per cent of traffic each day.

For businesses, this volume of unwanted spam is undoubtedly a drain on valuable time, effort and resources, ultimately distracting from the business' prime focus.

Maildistiller removes the headache that spam, viruses and malware can cause, allowing businesses to get on with making money. On top of that, with Maildistiller there's no costly hardware or software for clients to install and maintain.

Threats are eliminated before they reach the inboxes of end-users, so that Maildistiller only delivers 'clean', legitimate email to the client network.

Size doesn't matter!

Maildistiller acknowledges that businesses come in a variety of shapes and sizes, each deserving of the best in email and web management. We offer security solutions that directly fit the needs of your business, so whether you're a huge enterprise company, an ISP, a Government organisation or a SMB, find out exactly how we can help protect your business and increase its productivity.
