

Big and SMALL

Maidistiller's got all your business needs covered, regardless of your company's size

If you're a SMB you can be secure in knowing that Maidistiller offers the same level of protection to our smaller customers as we do to large companies, governments and ISP's. Maidistiller is under continual development, to not only deal with the emergence of new email and web threats, but to evolve and provide even more features and benefits to enhance your businesses' security needs.

Excellent value and freedom to make a profit!

Maidistiller's email and web filtering provides enterprise class security for small/medium businesses.

We can provide the protection that's right for your business, at a price based on the number of people we protect in your organization, not on the amount of software and servers you need to buy, install, configure and maintain. This way, you know that security comes at an excellent value, without the need to commit high levels of capital expenditure to making sure your business is protected.

Additionally this means your resources aren't tied up in dealing with multiple systems or in ensuring protection is up to date, you can focus on growing your business. With Maidistiller you remain in total control but we're in the background sorting any security issues allowing you to focus on what makes your business profitable rather than the problems associated with spam, viruses and malware.

No need for additional IT costs!

Given the constantly evolving state of the internet and the sophistication of the latest emails scams and viruses, businesses must have multiple safeguards in place to ensure they are adequately protected. Previously this would have demanded acquiring a range of hardware and software. This is fine for larger companies that can afford a raft of IT specialists to handle the numerous issues aligned to operating systems, software versions and integration but Maidistiller understands that the vast majority of SME's simply don't have the resources

Don't ignore the risks!

Remember, email is a quick an effective means of communication and is as legally binding as any other official document but as a business you can't ignore the risks! Spam, viruses, malware, identity theft and phishing scams are all very real and very common, threatening business continuity regulatory compliance, reputation and the overall business name and brand.

Are you compromising your business?

Emails carry threats that damage efficiency, productivity, reputation and brand value. These threats are highly sophisticated and constantly evolve to target your organization. Effectively your entire network can be compromised by just one infected message or 'bad' web link. Maidistiller is the most cost-effective way of managing this risk and protecting business-critical information by eliminating the need to continually reinvest in infrastructure and in-house expertise.

Emergency Inbox

Maidistiller guarantees that if for any reason a message cannot be delivered, you can access it instantly and securely via any web connection.

Access your queuing email via a web mail client with the ability to read, forward, reply, open attachments and as a result keep your business running.
