

Features and Benefits

Simple reasons to make the move to Maildistiller's managed service.

Pure filtered email

Avoid the danger associated with spam, viruses and unsolicited porn. Not only for inbound mail but we can also filter outbound email, ensuring that your organisation is fully protected.

Reduce costs and empower Employees

Maildistiller stops you from paying to store and download spam on expensive server space, over costly network bandwidth, lowering email volume by up to 95%. Employees receive only valuable email, making their time much more productive.

Keep your network free for customer and corporate use.

Charged per user NOT PER ADDRESS

Many providers may portray that they are offering a cheaper service by advertising their costs per address. However, as you are aware it is very common within organisations for users to have up to 5 addresses linked to them, all of which require filtering and all of which are charged separately by many providers, making the monthly bill suddenly seem much less attractive.

At Maildistiller we will filter all the 5 email addresses belonging to the registered user for no extra cost.

With us there's no hidden costs or nasty surprises, it's simply 1user= 5addresses!

Fewest false positives (1 in 1.5 million)

Stopping spam's one thing, but less sophisticated spam filters are additionally renowned for blocking legitimate mail. Maildistiller puts an end to legitimate and valuable email being locked in a manual verification server for hours, even days, waiting for release.

Email continuity back-up and 24/7 monitoring and support

If your own network goes down, we will queue your email and provide web access to it from any internet connection (Emergency Inbox). From here you can continue to read, forward, reply, and open attachments involved with your email minimising any disruption to your day. Maildistiller also offers a 24 x 7 helpdesk with highly experienced engineers available to support partners and address any issues which may arise.

Image scanning technology prevents dynamic, static and video images

Image based spam and illicit images are uniquely halted both inbound and outbound.

Individual user control

Each user can uniquely adjust their own system to allow what they consider to be valuable email through. What one person considers spam can be very different to the next. Maildistiller treats you as a person – not as just another email address.

Multi-stage filtration offering 98%+ detection rates

An award winning system which massively reduces the volume of spam that reaches your organisation's inbox.

Managed service and ISO 17799 multi-layered framework

Our Data Centres in the UK and Ireland handle all the updating and maintenance required with the service, saving you any hassle. Additionally as a managed service there is no expensive and troublesome hardware or software to install and maintain in your environment.

Pure Content Engine

Maildistiller Pure Content Control Engine offers a powerful, customisable rules engine, which facilitates both content and event-based email management whilst providing highly sensitive levels of control regarding inbound and outbound email traffic.

Our Pure Content Control Engine harnesses a range of proprietary technologies which determine whether or not each individual email may be allowed into or out of your organisation. Completely configurable to your needs, it also enables you to establish and enforce an appropriate acceptable use policy that will help ensure your employees' use of email is consistent with the efficient and successful operation of your business.
